THEY SAY

Given the very slick and engaging nature of the mobile app, we're confident that users will now be capturing 100% of their time regardless of location

WE SAY

With so much work done away from the office these days, there is potentially a huge amount of time either going completely unrecorded or recorded inaccurately. With Rekoop, the time capture interface is always with you, on your smartphone or tablet, and data entry or the review of automatically captured activity just comes down to a couple of swipes and clicks
